CASTERTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL JOINS FORCES WITH RIVERVIEW FAMILY HEALTH, CASTERTON FOR ONGOING GP HEALTH SERVICES.

Casterton Memorial Hospital Board of Directors Chair Ms Liz McKinnon is delighted to announce to the community of Casterton that CMH has gained services support from Riverview Family Health for the continuation of visiting GP health services to CMH.

After some ongoing period of discussions with Riverview Family Health's Clinical Director, Dr Richard Try, CMH have formed an agreement for the provision of health services.

CMH Chief Executive Officer Mr Owen Stephens welcomed the Service Agreement with Riverview Family Health noting that CMH and the clinical team look forward to welcoming new Medical Practitioners to CMH.

"As all would be aware the access to General Medical Practitioners across rural Australia continues to be a challenge. Through this partnership with Riverview Family Health CMH will continue to deliver sound Medical services within our community for now and into the future", Mr Stephens stated.

General Practitioners from Riverview Family Health are anticipated to start work from CMH by the end of the month subject to finalisation of required documentation and agreement details.

Ms McKinnon applauded this successful direction for CMH Medical Service provision with Riverview Family Health and looks forward to a progressive and sustainable future together.
